Yeah nick and nicky are real busy right now. If you jave read the other forums then you will know that Nick has just finished editing another episode of ltdiots. At my guess i would say that the episode should be released by Friday Evening, Saturday or Sunday.

Hope that answers your question.

Does anything in what i wrote indicate I'm anything other than chilled? I understand there busy and I'm not really fussed about another episode, just be nice to see one. In all fairness i was bored and was just having a laugh with them.
